GRADUATE STUDENT MINI COURSE

Geographic Information System for Conflict Research (GIS)

Instructor: Nils B. Weidmann, Jackson Institute, Yale University
Course material by Jan Ketil R d (NTNU Trondheim)

March 7-9, 2011 - OACS Computer Lab Room 1 - 0225 Lefrak Hall

Geographic Information Systems (GIS) have become increasingly widespread in the social sciences. This course introduces students to core GIS concepts and techniques, drawing on examples from civil war research. Topics covered include: maps and projections; data representation in GIS; collection of spatial data; vector operations; zonal statistics and fishnet analyses. The course relies primarily on the ArcGIS software, but also gives a short introduction to spatial data processing in the R statistical toolkit.

All sessions start with a short lecture, followed by a GIS lab:

Monday 9-12pm

Introduction and Logistics
 Map Projections
 Exercise: Map Projections

Monday 4-6pm

Representation
 Exercise: Adding Events

Tuesday 9-12pm

Data Collection
 Exercise: Geo-referencing of Images and Screen-digitizing of Vector Features

Tuesday 4:30-6:30pm

Vector Operations
 Exercise: Buffer and Overlay

Wednesday 9-12pm

Fishnet and Zonal Statistics
 Exercise: Fishnet and Zonal Statistics

Wednesday 1:30-3:30pm

Spatial Data in R
 Exercises: (i) R exercises or (ii) Some advanced ArcGIS topic
 (self-study)

You must sign up for the Training Session at the Front Desk in GVPT. We look forward to your attendance and participation in this most valuable training session.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Recruitment:

Our recruitment efforts this year have resulted in 2 new American hires and 4 new IR hires. On August 23, 2011 we will add to our faculty Patrick Wohlfarth (UNC-Chapel Hill), Jennifer Hadden (Cornell University), David Cunningham (currently at Iowa State, received his PhD from UC-San Diego), Kathleen Cunningham (currently at Iowa State, received her PhD from UC-San Diego), Todd Allee (currently at the University of Illinois-Urbana Champaign, received his PhD from the University of Michigan), and Kris Miler (currently at the University of Illinois-Urbana Champaign, received her PhD from the University of Michigan).

We also have a tenure case pending University approval for another American hire David Karol (currently at American University, received his PhD from UCLA) but we hope to have him join us as well.

This wraps up a pretty successful hire and restore a huge void we have had in both the American and IR fields.

External Review:

As we gear up for our department External Review. Our reviewers arrive on Sunday April 10 and will leave on April 13. The schedule will be worked out within the next couple of weeks so everyone we have plenty of time to rearrange their schedules to participate in this very exciting process. I would like to take this time to introduce you to our reviewers:

James Morrow who will serve as the Chair for the External Review Committee, received his Ph.D. in 1982 at the University of Rochester. He is Professor at the Department of Political Science at the University of Michigan - Ann Arbor whose department ranked #4 in the 2009 U.S. News and World Report rankings and is ranked #4 in the 1993 National Research Council (NRC) rankings. Co-author of The Logic of Political Survival, and Author of Game Theory for Political Scientists. He has also published 30 articles in refereed journals such as World Politics, International Organization, American Political Science Review, Journal of Peace Research, Journal of Conflict Resolution, International Studies Quarterly among others. Professor Morrow's research addresses theories of international politics, both the logical development and empirical testing of such theories. He is best known for pioneering the application of noncooperative game theory, drawn from economics, to international politics. His published work covers crisis bargaining, the causes of war, military alliances, arms races, power transition theory, links between international trade and conflict, the role of international institutions, and domestic politics and foreign policy. Professor Morrow received the Karl Deutsch Award from the International Studies Association in 1994. He is a member of the editorial boards of the American Political Science Review, International Organization, Journal of Conflict Resolution, Journal of Politics, International Studies Quarterly, Journal of Theoretical Politics, and Economics of Governance. He served on the National Science Foundation Advisory Panel for Political Science from 1995-1997.

Paula D. McClain is professor of political science and law and director of the Ralph Bunche Institute at Duke University whose political science department is tied at #9 in the 2009 U.S. World and News Report and ranked #14 in the 1993 NRC Rankings. She specializes in American politics with an emphasis on race and politics, urban politics, and public policy and has published extensively in these areas. Her most recent book, coauthored with Joseph Stewart, Jr, Can We all Get Along? Racial and Ethnic Minorities in American Politics, was published by Westview Press (initially published in 1995, second edition 1998, s second edition update 1999). It won the 1996 Gustavus Myers Center Award for one of the best books on intolerance in North America. Her other books include Race, Place, and Risk: Black Homicide in Urban America, SUNY Press, 1990. She is a past-vice president of the American Political Science Association, a past president of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists, served as program co-chair for the 1993 annual meeting of the American Political Science Association, and program chair for the 1999 annual meeting of the Midwest Political Science Association.

Thomas M. Carsey is the Thomas J. Pearsall Distinguished Professor of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill whose political science department is tied for 13th in the 2009 U.S. News and World Report rankings and is ranked #18 in the 1993 National Research Council (NRC) rankings. Professor Carsey's research interests focus on representation in national and sub national politics in the U.S. More specifically, he studies electoral behavior, campaigns, political parties, and legislatures in the American context. He is particularly interested in how contextual factors such as campaign information, demography, or institutions shape political attitudes and behavior. Professor Carsey also has a strong interest in quantitative methods. Professor Carsey has published two books: Congress and the Distributive Politics of Military Procurement, University of Oklahoma Press, 2002 with Barry Rundquist and Campaign Dynamics: The Race for Governor, University of Michigan Press, 2000. He also has many articles published (or forthcoming) in top journals such as the American Political Science Review, the American Journal of Political Science, Electoral Studies, Political Behavior and Journal of Politics. Professor Carsey has received numerous research grants from the National Science Foundation, and he will be assuming the editorship of State Politics and Policy Quarterly—the leading journal in the area of state politics—in June 2010.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF GRADUATE STUDIES

We are in the middle of recruitment season. We have received 270 applications, and there are many quality applicants. Over the course of the next 6 weeks, a number of our applicants will be visiting. Please be generous with your time when they request to meet you. Faculty should also feel free to examine the applicant files and to provide recommendations to one or more members of the Admissions committee. Do remember, however, that the files must be reviewed in the main office.

Faculty evaluations of student financial aid applications are due in Ann Marie's office on March 1. If you have not submitted your evaluations yet, please do so ASAP.

If you are planning to take one or more comprehensive exams in August, your application is due in Ann Marie's office on April 1st.

Finally, there is still time to nominate deserving students for the George M. Phillips Award, a BSOS award for outstanding policy-related research by a graduate student. See <http://www.bsos.umd.edu/media/52861/01-phillips%20award%20flier%202011.pdf> for more information. Nominations are due in the Dean's office by March 18.

MESSAGE FROM THE PLACEMENT DIRECTOR

Thanks go to Joel Simmons for doing a session for graduate students on effective presentations. I learned a lot myself! We all realize that the quality of presentations by recent job candidates here varied (to say the least), and we want to make sure that our graduate students all do a great job. I hope to be able to post Joel's main points/ slides to the website soon.

On April 6 from 3:30-5:00pm Sharon Roushdy and/ or Deborah Mateik from OIT have offered to do a presentation on how to design an online course. This is at the request of students in GVPT599, but I am opening this up to the entire department.

Director of Placement

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES

Fall 2011 Registration

Fall 2011 registration begins on March 15 and continues through the first week of May. As in past semesters, GVPT majors can register for no more than three GVPT courses, and all 400-level classes are restricted to GVPT majors only. Non-majors may only take 1 course at the 100-300 level.

Spring 2011 Commencement

The GVPT Commencement ceremony will take place on Friday, May 20, 2011 at noon in Cole Field House. The department is currently looking for faculty volunteers to serve as members of the platform party. If you are available, please email Karen Kaufmann or Apitchaya Pimpawathin.

Scholarships

The department has over $8,000 to award undergraduate students in this year's scholarship competition. Current freshman, sophomores, and juniors who have distinguished themselves academically and have financial need are strongly encouraged to apply. More information on scholarships can be found on the website at: <http://www.bsos.umd.edu/gvpt/undergraduate/scholarships/> .

MESSAGE FROM THE GVPT GRADUATE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The spring semester is off to a great start with the GSA reconvening on February 9th. We discussed a number of upcoming training opportunities, planned for a graduate course survey, received updates from all of our field representatives, and enjoyed pizza and soda.

The GIS Training will take place on March 7-9 with Professor Nils Weidman from Yale University. Additional information can be found in the GSA meeting minutes. You can also e-mail Molly Inman with questions. We will also be talking with Judy Markowitz from the McKeldin Library to set up library graduate research training. Please let us know if you have specific topics that you would like her to cover during the session. Finally, a graduate student-led course on the topic of online teaching is also in the works.

Make sure to attend the next GSA meeting on Wednesday, March 2nd in 1101 Morrill Hall. We will provide more information on the above training opportunities and a draft of the graduate course survey will be presented. In addition, Dr. Morris will join us to answer questions ranging from the comp process to funding decisions to course offerings. For those interested in the question and answer session with Dr. Morris, the meeting will begin early at 10:30am and he will be with us until 11:00am. Regular meeting agenda items will be covered and pizza will be served after 11:00am.

We look forward to seeing you on campus, and don't hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.

Your GSA Co-Chairs,

Agatha Hulquist

STAFF AND ADMINISTRATION

MAKE-UP EXAMS (Proctoring)

The main office staff does not proctor or oversee make-up exams. Make-up exams will not be held in the GVPT main Office Conference Room.

RETURNING STUDENT PAPERS

The main office staff does not collect or return student papers. If you want to provide a pick-up service, give the students a time when you will be in your office for them to pick the papers up. Leaving papers out for the students to flip through is a violation of student privacy. The best suggestion is to ask the students to provide a self addressed and stamped envelope and you will return the papers to them.

FIELD UPDATES - WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

AMERICAN POLITICS FIELD - WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

The American Politics Workshop is a bi-monthly research colloquium for faculty and graduate students. The workshop constitutes an ongoing research community where participants present and discuss papers in an informal, supportive environment. Papers are made available via the workshop website in advance of our meetings, and participants are expected to have read them. Discussion leaders are assigned on a rotating basis, matching papers with discussants who share complementary research interests. Many of the papers presented in recent years have gone on to publication in top tier political science journals.

The workshop is especially beneficial for our graduate students. It provides an excellent opportunity to interact with the American Politics faculty outside of the classroom and, for advanced graduate students actively engaged in scholarly research, the workshop can also be an invaluable source of professional advice. The American Politics faculty strongly encourages all of our graduate students to regularly participate in the workshop.

The AP Workshop website is: <http://www.bsos.umd.edu/gvpt/apworkshop>. While the workshop focuses on issues in American politics, all faculty and graduate students are welcome to attend. All workshops will be held from 10:30-12:00 in Tydings 1136 unless otherwise notified.

COMPARATIVE POLITICS FIELD – WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

Throughout the course of the semester we will hold periodic gatherings for the comparative field, including social events, speakers, and special topic seminars (e.g. how to do research in the field, how to get grants to go overseas). The comparative subfield is putting together a stellar lineup of guest speakers for the spring. While the exact dates remain to be finalized, we have confirmed the following speakers:

Spring Schedule:

- Carles Boix (Princeton) Wed March 9, new time: 12:00, CIDCM Conference Room
Discussants Simmons and Hultquist
- Joel Simmons (co-sponsored w/ IR), Monday, March 14 at 11am in 1101 Morrill Hall
Discussant: Reed
- Ethan Bueno de Mesquita (Chicago) is co-sponsored by the Formal and CIDCM workshops, March 30 in 1101 Morrill Hall.
Discussants Calvo and Koh
- Meeting with New Sociology Faculty Member Dana Fisher who works on protest movements, TBA
Casual get-to-know Coffee Meeting
- Macartan Humphreys (Columbia) is co-sponsored by the CIDCM workshop, April 14
Discussants: Birnir and Fruge
- Ben Reilly (Australian Nat'l U) May 4
Discussants: Corstange and Torrealday

Although the Comparative Politics Workshop focuses on comparative politics, all faculty and graduate students are welcome to attend.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS FIELD – WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

The international relations workshop brings together faculty and graduate students with an interest in international relations. We invite faculty and graduate students to discuss their latest research; present papers in progress, with a formal discussant; present information for professional development; and invite guest speakers. Students are strongly encouraged to attend and we would also like to see some students present their own work in the workshop. The international relations workshop will be meeting on Mondays this fall from 11:00-12:15 in Tydings 1136. We will schedule approximately 5 meetings over the course of the semester. Working papers will be posted on the IR Workshop website at www.bsos.umd.edu/gvpt/irworkshop as they become available.

Students could present dissertation work or a conference paper. Students interested in presenting their work should contact Scott Kastner at skastner@gvpt.umd.edu.

Scheduled Events 11-12:15, 1111 Tydings Hall

The current preliminary schedule is as follows:

Spring Semester:

March 14, Different Location: 1101 Morrill Hall. Joel Simmons, “Dividing the Spoils: Party Nationalization, Credibility, and Foreign Direct Investment” (with Allen Hicken, Ken Kollman, and Irfan Nooruddin). Co sponsored with Comparative Politics.

April 4: Molly Inman, Roudabeh Kishi, and Jon Wilkenfeld, “Culture and International Crisis Mediation.”

April 18: Open, TBA.

May 2: Mark Shirk, TBA.

If you are interested in presenting or acting as a discussant, please contact Scott Kastner.

POLITICAL THEORY FIELD - WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

Please watch for emails and newsletters for panels as we schedule them. All graduate students and faculty are welcome, especially those with some interest in wars and/or game theory. A lot of really clever work has been done recently in this area. So even if you don't care at all about wars, and couldn't care less about game theory, you should come just to find out what is going on.

Spring Semester:

Shadia Drury, University of Regina in Canada: “The Political Implications of Socratic Religion”
March 9 at 12:00noon in 1136 Tydings Hall. Light lunch will be served.

On April 7, we will be hosting Melvin Rogers (UVA/Emory), author of the highly-acclaimed Undiscovered Dewey (Columbia UP), who will be giving a paper based upon his new research on W.E.B. DuBois. Details forthcoming; for additional information, please contact Prof. Ward @ iward@umd.edu.

On May 5, we will be hosting Kristen Monroe, Professor of Political Science and Director of the Interdisciplinary Center for the Scientific Study of Ethics and Morality at UC Irvine and recipient of the APSA's de Sola Pool Award. For additional information, please contact Prof. Glass @ jglass@gvpt.umd.edu.

Alternatively, inquiries may be directed to politicaltheory@umd.edu. For more info contact Ashley Gorham, agorham@gvpt.umd.edu

CIDCM WORKSHOP ON PEACE AND CONFLICT

We are in the process of scheduling workshops for the Spring semester. If you are interested in presenting your work or serving as a discussant please contact Ben Appel ASAP at bappel@gvpt.umd.edu. We have not settled on a exact set of dates for the entire semester yet, so please let me know approximately when you would like to present or be a discussant.

I will email a working schedule for the Spring semester within the next week or so.

As a reminder, the workshop will be held generally on Mondays every third week at the University of Maryland in Morrill Hall, room 1101 (conference room on the first floor), from 11:00-12:15. We will follow the standard format followed in previous years in which a) ongoing research is presented, b) a paper is submitted about a week in advance for everyone to read, and c) a discussant will start things off with some comments and then we will open up for general discussion. We also encourage advanced graduate students with papers and dissertation chapters to present their work. The workshop has benefited in the past from the active participation of graduate students and we would like to see this continue this year with students presenting their ongoing work or serving as discussants.

Schedule:

- Ethan Bueno de Mesquita (Chicago) is co-sponsored by the Formal and CIDCM workshops, March 30 in 1101 Morrill Hall.

Discussants Calvo and Koh

- Macartan Humphreys (Columbial) is co-sponsored by the Comparative Politics Workshop, April 14

Discussants: Birnir and Fruge

QUANTITATIVE POLITICS – WORKSHOPS and SEMINARS

The updated schedule can also be found on our wiki at:

COMMITTEE ON POLITICS, PHILOSOPHY AND PUBLIC POLICY (CP4) WORKSHOPS

The Committee on Politics, Philosophy, and Public Policy (known informally as CP4) is an interdisciplinary graduate specialization sponsored by the Department of Government and Politics, the Department of Philosophy, the Institute for Philosophy and Public Policy, and the Maryland School of Public Policy. The CP4 monthly workshop is an excellent opportunity to interact with faculty and graduate students across disciplinary lines.

Workshops take place one Friday a month, 2:00-3:30 p.m. in Tydings 1136. The paper should be read in advance; speakers will talk only briefly before discussion begins. Please see <http://www.publicpolicy.umd.edu/prospective/specialization/cp4workshop.html> for a copy of the paper. To be added to our e-mail list, or if you have questions, please contact Prof. Karol Soltan of the Government and Politics Department at ksoltan@gvpt.umd.edu.

CENTER ANNOUNCEMENTS

Center for American Politics and Citizenship (CAPC)

Center for American Politics and Citizenship

2011 Maryland Politics Summit

On January 31, CAPC held its first-annual Maryland Politics Summit in the Stamp Student Union. This event featured many prominent Maryland public officials from state and federal government, discussing some of the most important issues in state politics and policy. The event was a great success, and received positive coverage in the media. You can find more information on the event at www.capc.umd.edu/MDPolitics2011.

MD Internship Program Annapolis Reception

On Tuesday, April 5, CAPC will host the 2nd annual MD Internship Program Annapolis Reception at the Maryland Inn in Annapolis, MD. This event recognizes the University of Maryland students who intern in Maryland state government, and was well attended last year by government officials, staff, and CAPC's board members. If you are interested in attending please contact Mike Charlebois at (301) 314-2736 or mcharleb@capc.umd.edu.

Career Seminar for BSOS Students

On April 19, CAPC is hosting its latest semi-annual career seminar. These events, held each semester, allow BSOS undergraduates to hear about potential careers in the fields of politics and policy. Confirmed speakers for the upcoming seminar include The Honorable Justin Ross, Member of the MD House of Delegates; Nidhi Thakar, Associate with Perkins Coie; Don DeArmon, Vice President of The Margolin Group; and Luis Costa Ribas, Journalist with Voice of America. The seminar will be held from 2:00 – 3:00 pm, in 200 Skinner Building, and is open to all undergraduate students.

BSOS Emerging Scholars Program

CAPC is accepting applications for excellent undergraduate students interested in working as a research assistant under the BSOS Emerging Scholars Program. This program allows students an opportunity to work closely with faculty on important research projects, while earning course credit and a stipend. If you are a BSOS student interested in conducting research and analysis on topics including election reform, campaign finance, voting, and congressional elections, have a GPA of 3.5 or higher, and have completed between 30 and 60 credit hours, please contact Mike Charlebois at mcharleb@capc.umd.edu for more details on how to apply.
