

President's Message

The summer seems to have zipped by all too quickly. I hope that you have found time during this period to relax, refresh, and spend time with your family and friends.

The MAHE board of directors has been busy preparing for the fall conference and working on revisions to our by-laws, as well as updating our website. Information about the MAHE organization and its programs are available on our website, in addition to our newsletter and links to other areas of interest. Many thanks to our Web Administrator and Webmaster, Art Huseonica, and his design team for this much-needed facelift. Be sure and bookmark the site so you can enjoy the continuous improvements and new information available there (<http://www.bsos.umd.edu/mahe/>).

Please plan to join us at the fall conference on October 25th when we also will be presenting the slate of officers for 2002-03 and recommending modifications to our current by-laws. Margaret Hayes has done an outstanding job as chair of both the nominating and by-laws committees this year.

Best wishes for a successful fall term – I look forward to seeing you on October 25th.

Tana Bishop

Fall Conference 2002

Dr. Christine Johnson McPhail

The fall conference to be held on October 25th at Carroll Community College will feature Dr. Christine Johnson McPhail as the keynote speaker. Dr. McPhail, who is Professor and Coordinator of the Community College Leadership Doctoral Program at Morgan State University, plans to address the question: "Can Higher Education Change to meet the Challenges of the 21st Century?" In addition to the keynote address, MAHE will present "Outstanding Educator" awards to the following recipients: Charlene Dukes – PGCC (Outstanding Administrator), Phillip Sokolove – UMBC (Outstanding Faculty), and Joyce Sebian – Carroll CC (Outstanding Advisor). Many thanks to Conference Chair, Sock-Foon MacDougall, and Outstanding Educator Awards Chair, Sherry Glass, for their superb efforts in organizing this event.

MAHE'S MISSION STATEMENT

MAHE seeks to promote the general welfare of colleges and universities in Maryland; improve higher education in the state; promote collaboration among state and national educational agencies and lay groups in higher education; and improve the professional, economic, and social status of college personnel.

About MAHE ...

The Maryland Association for Higher Education (MAHE), founded in 1946, is a voluntary organization for professionals in post-secondary education in Maryland committed to the advancement of higher and adult education in Maryland.

Members include administrators and faculty in public and private sectors, from two- and four-year colleges and universities. State agencies and governing boards are also represented.

Through its conferences and other programs, the organization provides forums for exploring current issues that affect higher education in Maryland.

SEEKING MAHE JOURNAL EDITOR

The MAHE Journal is an annual publication of the Maryland Association for Higher Education (MAHE). After seven years of serving as Editor for the Journal, Craig Claggett will be stepping down to pursue other interests and allow someone else to assume the Editor position. Please contact MAHE President, Tana Bishop, at tbishop@umuc.edu if you are interested in this rewarding opportunity.

MAHE INVOLVEMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Write an article for the MAHE Journal - submit research articles, a thought piece on issues impacting higher education, etc.

Spring Event Chair and Committee - work together to organize, plan, publicize, execute and evaluate an event, which addresses important issues impacting higher education today in the State of Maryland.

Fall Conference Chair and Committee - work together to organize, plan, publicize, execute and evaluate an event which will look at some best practices being done in higher education today in the State of Maryland.

Membership Chair - works closely with the MAHE Treasurer to keep the membership role up to date and recruits new individual members and institutional members.

The Distinguished Program Committee -determines the programs from higher education institutions which should be recognized for the contributions made to the betterment of students, to the institution and to higher education. Most work is done in the summer in time for the Fall Conference through e-mail and possibly one meeting. The recipients present their programs at the Fall Conference. (every other year)

The Outstanding Educator Award Committee -determines the individuals do be recognized for contributions to the institution or to higher education in general. Most of the work is done in February/March in time for the recipients to be presented with their awards at the Spring Event. (every other year)

Legislative Analyst for Newsletter - identifies legislative issues, which impact higher education in the State of Maryland and write a column for the MAHE Newsletter at least twice a year.

Institutional Representative - liaison to the Executive Board to encourage membership, communication and promotion of MAHE programs, suggest program topics, encourage submission of applications for awards and appropriate articles to the MAHE JOURNAL, attend board meetings when requested and attend an annual orientation session.

Officer - attends scheduled meetings, performs duties as described in the Constitution of the Maryland Association for Higher Education, Inc.

Web Site Editor – one or two individual who make sure the MAHE web page is kept up to date and the information is accurate.

Conference/Event Presenter- MAHE is always looking for individuals who would be willing to be a conference/event presenter.

Did You Know?

UMUC Course Named "Best" by Maryland Distance Learning Association

By Andrea Martino

UMUC's online LIBS 150 Information Literacy and Research Methods course was named the 2001–2002 Best Distance Course by the Maryland Distance Learning Association (MDLA), an association of learning professionals who advocate and promote distance learning in Maryland.

LIBS 150 is a one-credit course that teaches students how to properly find information on the Internet, conduct effective research, cite resources properly, and learn strategies for avoiding plagiarism. The course was launched in fall 2001 and is now a requirement for all UMUC undergraduate students who have declared majors.

"While it is clear that our library and information services are exemplary in enabling more than 78,000 UMUC students worldwide to access the university's online library services, even that is not enough," said Mary Ellen Hrutka, dean of UMUC's School of Undergraduate Studies. "Students must be taught to identify, evaluate, and use information, and they must demonstrate a basic level of proficiency in using these resources before they can move forward in their programs of study at UMUC. These skills are essential for ongoing academic success."
